

Assistant Professor (JOB #11760)
Arizona State University
Hugh Downs School of Human Communication

The Hugh Downs School of Human Communication (HDSHC) in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences on the Tempe Campus of Arizona State University invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track position as Assistant Professor with an anticipated start date of August 2017. Applicants at entry level or advanced Assistant level are encouraged to apply. We are particularly interested in applicants with a research focus in health communication, broadly defined. Salary will be competitive based on qualifications.

The successful candidate will join a dynamic faculty working to advance innovative research and excellence in teaching through its efforts with the diverse and growing undergraduate and graduate student population at Arizona State University. The School's mission aims to produce transdisciplinary and interdisciplinary scholarship and teaching that responds to pressing issues in the world today. We invite you to learn more about the Hugh Downs School of Human Communication and Arizona State University by visiting <https://humancommunication.clas.asu.edu/> and <https://newamericanuniversity.asu.edu/>, respectively.

The successful candidate will be expected to develop a vigorous research program which attracts external funding; teach courses at the undergraduate and graduate levels; contribute to curriculum development and graduate advising; serve on school, college, and university committees; and, provide service to school, professional associations and the community.

The Hugh Downs School of Human Communication includes 21 full-time faculty members and offers the BA, BS, masters in passing, MA and PhD degrees in human communication. The School offers laboratory facilities, computer resources, project support, grant development support, and a performance studio. The Main Campus is located in Tempe, a progressive suburb of Phoenix. Our location offers the resources of a major metropolitan area (5+ million) in a state with spectacular natural scenery and recreational areas, sublime winters, and a culturally rich population.

Required Qualifications:

- Ph.D. in communication or a related field by the time of appointment
- A research and teaching focus in health communication
- A record of or potential to attract external research funding

Desired Qualifications:

- Ability to also contribute to research and teaching in one or more of the School's other core areas (intercultural, interpersonal, organizational, rhetoric/public communication, performance studies)
- Demonstrated success meeting the needs to diverse student populations and/or reaching out to diverse communities

Initial deadline for receipt of complete applications is Saturday, December 3, 2016; if not filled, review of complete applications will continue every two weeks thereafter until the search is closed. A background check is required for employment.

To apply, please submit to HDSHCrecruitment@asu.edu a single PDF document that includes the following:

1. A cover letter specifying interest in the position and how qualifications match the required and desired qualifications
2. Curriculum vitae
3. Evidence of excellence in teaching (e.g., syllabi, teaching evaluations)
